U. S. SHIP PORTSMOUTH.)
SAN DIRGO, March 22, 1854.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW YORK HERALD: As the mail is now about to leave for San Francisco, I will send you all the news that we have been able to obtain up to this hour. Last night fifteen men, who deserted from Walker's camp one week ago, arrived at this place. They state that his party is now reduced to about sixty men. They also state that it was hinted in the camp that Walker, with some of his officers, would give up the expedition, and make the r way into Texas, so as to avoid being arrested and taken back to San Francisco. Poer Gilman has had his leg amputated, and at last ac-

Poer Gilman has had his leg amputated, and at less accounts was delay well.

We shall leave here as soon as the Columbus returns, and cruise along the coast, looking into Ensenada. San Quintin, and so on to Cape St. Lucas, and back to this port, and then leave for Valparaiso. Our officers and year all well.

W. F. G.

Since my last, dated three days ago, and which is now on its way to you, we have learned the following particulars in regard to Walker. Yesterday four of his men arrived in town, and immediately came on board this ship; there are now about thirty of his men in town; these will all take passage in the Columbus, for San Francisco. These last men state that when they left Walker, on the 21st instant, he was preparing to abandon the New Re-public, as he has called it, and would start with about forty of his best officers and men, on the following day, for Texas, crossing the Colorado river. Captain Snow, who ran away with the brig Caroline, is with him, so if they succeed and get past the Apache Indians and Mexican forces, the good people of Texas will soon have a band ot pirates in their midst. Before these men left they assisted Walker in burying all his ammunition, amounting to about two thomand pounds of powder, balls, &c.; they also broke up all the spare arms. They state that Walker and his officers lay the cause of the downfall of the expedition and the New Republic to the interference of the Portsmouth and Columbus. They say that dissatisfaction began to show itself in the camp as soon as we anchored off Fort McKibben. So you see, sir, that Captain Dernin, his officers and crew, and Liout Wm. H. Ball, commanding U. S. steamer Columbus, with his officers and crew, have accomplished a great end. We have been the sole means of dispersing a party of filibusters who have invaded Lower California, and which has threatened to engage us in another war with Mexico. This have we done by the good management of Capt. D. and his assistants, without using any force, and thereby saving the honor of the American government, and as we all think, covering ourselves with honor. You will readily see that Senator Gwin was a little too fast in thoing fault with the President for not having a sufficient force in the Pacific, for when he was speechifying there in the Senate chamber, we were in the midst of the fillbusters. If the New Republic makers in San Francisco wish to try their hands at fillbustering in any other place, let them go ahead, and before they can do much harm the Portsmouth and Columbus, with their gallant officers and crews, will be after them just in season to scatter them, as President Walker and his party have been.

We shall leave here in a few days for Valparaiso. who ran away with the brig Caroline, is with him; so if

New York Orphan Asylum.

The forty-eighth anniversary of this society was celebrated on Tuesday in Niblo's Saloon, in presence of a large audience, consisting principally of ladies. The children of the institution, to the number of about two hundred, one-half of whom were boys, occupied a platform. They were pently dressed, and their cheerful, contented looks were the best evidence that could be presented of the character of the society which has taken them under its charge. The exercises were commenced with the read-ing of the Scriptures by Rev. Mr. Prentiss; after which charge. The exercises were commenced with the reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Mr. Prentiss; after which the same gentleman read the last annual report. From this we learn that since the establishment of the institution more than fifteen hundred destitute children have been provided for, and the number of its immates at present is over two hundred. The receipts of the society during the past year amounted to $28,276 87, and the balance on hand, after defraying the expenses, amounts to $40 10. Of the receipts, $15,000 were a legacy from Mr. Janes P. Howe, $1,000 from Mr. Ss. Howland, and $1,103 48 a portion of a legacy from Mr. Janes P. Howe, $1,000 from Mr. Ss. Howland, and $1,103 48 a portion of a legacy from Mr. Jas. Murray.

After the reading of the report, Rev. Mr. Prentiss made a brief and appropriate address.

I have been requested, said the, to make a brief address, but really I don't think any words of mine can add either to the interest or profit of this occasion. It would be great presumption in me to offer you counsel, and certainly you don't stand in need of encouragement. If you did, these bright happy faces that I see here would give it to you abundantly, but still more would yeu receive it from the brignant smiles of Providence, which from the brignant smiles of Providence, which from the beginning have rested upon this society. No, if you den't find encouragement in your benevolent work itself, and in that signal favor which God has extended towards you, no words of mine would do so. While, therefore, I trespass for a few moments upon your time, it will be chiefly to tell you of the delight I feel in witnessing the happy sight that now wreats our eyes. I see by the report which I have just read, that you are now celebrating your forty-eighth anniversary, and during the half century that has einped since the institution was established more than fitteen hundred fatheries and metal-less and metal-less and metal-less and metal-less and metal-less conductions and the second has extended to a gloriu

At the conclusion of this address the children went through a number of most interesting exercises, consist-ing of singing, recitations, and examinations in arithme-tic, reading, &c. Before the close of these exercises the following ladies were announced as the officers for the ensuing year.—

AFRIL 25.—David Lane vs. Wm. Thompson.—This action was brought to recover a quantity of horse feed delivered to the defendant at his place, in Yorkville. Payment is resisted on the ground that the goods were furnished to defendant as one of the firm of Mann & Co., proprietors of the Washington Circus, and for the benefit of the firm; that they should be joined as defendants in this action, it appeared that the plaintiff had a separate account with the defendant, Thompson, and also one against the firm. The firm account was settled. It further appeared that the defendant assumed the payment of this bill, charging his copartners their proportionate share of the same. Judgment for plaintiff, $130 and costs.

Wm. M. Boxter vs. James Hay.—The plaintiff, as assigned of one Wm. C. Farley, sued to recover for services rendered by Farley as a carpenter, and for materials furnished by him to defendant, towards the erection of a house in Forsyth street. The defendant contended that nothing was due Farley; that any work done or materials furnished, was under a written contract. The plaintiff sought to repudiate the contract, alleging that the terms and mode of payment mentioned therein were interpolated after execution. The subscribing witness who drew the contract, testified that he saw the parties sign and execute it, and that it was in no manner altered or changed after being signed. The court held that the contract being in writing, the parties were bound by it, and no different agreement could be claimed by either party. Judgment for defendant, with costs.

Henry Kluker vs. George H. Rippe.—Action for assault and battery, in dashing a handful of mud in plaintiff's face. Verdiet against defendant, $50.
